6. ## SCHOOLS

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

The annual meeting of the School District was held March 17, 1928 and the following officers were elected:

Fred L. Payson, Moderator; Leslie F. Hayden, Clerk; James E. Fowler, Treasurer; Eugene C. Patridge, Auditor.

C. A. Pollard was elected a member of the school board for three years.

The School Board met and organized as follows: Gertrude H. Price, chairman; C. A. Pollard, committee on repairs; Helen M. Merrill, clerk and committee on fuel.

The report of the Superintendent of Schools is appended as part of our report.

On September 25th Miss Abbie A. Pease was appointed Treasurer in place of James E. Fowler, deceased.

Early in the year for which we are reporting a Cop-pus undergrate draft blower with thermostat control was installed in connection with our heating plant. This equipment cost Two Hundred ($200.00) dollars installed and it has given good service by keeping the school rooms at an even heat, and it also has made a saving of at least One hundred ($100.00) dollars per year in the fire bill.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Newfields:

I herewith submit my annual report as the superintendent of the Newfields schools, the tenth in the series of such reports.

It is usually unfortunate for a school to have several teachers during the year. The Grammar School, last year, suffered for this reason. Miss Allard found it necessary for personal reasons to withdraw from the school and live elsewhere. She was followed by Miss Peterson, whose stay was, of necessity, a short one. Mr. Young finished the year and brought to the school the benefits of strong discipline and a steady hand. In spite of the changes, attendance at the Grammar School was especially good, as will be seen by referring to Table II. 96 percent is the best recorded in Newfields in the last ten years. The number of pupils enrolled in the Grammar School was only 17; this number has increased this year to 20 as a total enrollment. The Primary School was under the good teaching of Mrs. Mayo during the whole of last year and the pupils made good progress. At the end of the year, the usual standardized tests of achievement were given in both schools and the results as recorded are, on the whole, satisfactory. When it is possible for all public schools completely to adapt teaching to individual needs, then it will be possible to develop the pupil to the limit of his capacity, whether his mental endowment is great or small and whatever his temperamental make-up may be. The teachers of last year tried their best to reach the ideal in these matters.

It was possible last year for Newfields to have  $117\frac{1}{2}$  days of school,—within  $2\frac{1}{2}$  of the ideal number of days we have set. I hope that this year it will be quite possible to complete the 180 days.

The total enrollment of the schools since September of this year numbers 48. Thirteen of this number are in the first grade and eight of them are in the second grade. This indicates that we may have in a year or two a much larger school than we have had in the last six or eight years. It might be said, however, in this connection, that, more than formerly, the school population of Newfields is shifting; that is to say, each year several families with children move into town and move away again before the year is over. It will be noted that there are no medical inspection statistics for the current year. It has not been possible to find a physician to do the work. This is partially explained by the fact that ever since the first of October physicians have been very busy.

The physical plant is in good condition. It is quite apparent now that you have saved the district a considerable yearly sum by the use of controlled forced draft and small-sized coal. The building has never been more comfortable than now; by the end of the current year, you will have burned about the same tonnage of coal as in former years but at a cost of $6.00 per ton less. The outside of the building needed its coat of paint last summer and is now in good condition. I believe that next summer some repairs, not great in extent, should be made on the interior. The desk tops should be refinished, and it is probable that some of the woodwork should be revarnished and the plaster repainted. The interior of the toilets probably ought to be painted or revarnished. I suggest also that the school needs a place where drinking water may be kept in a more sanitary way than at present. During the freezing weather, the water must be kept in the school rooms to prevent the destruction of the containers. Where so many children must be accommodated from a single jar; and where there is no sink to carry off the waste and the drip, the floor becomes very wet, unsightly, and unsanitary. This condition exists in the hall in the warm weather and in the school rooms in the cold weather. My recommendation is that we store the books and other materials now in the bookroom, in one of the dark closets at the rear of the bookroom, where there is ample room, and that we install in the present bookroom a sink with drainage into the soil and with whatever other conveniences for washing hands and faces may be possible. I think the present boiler would care for the heating of such a room without being overtaxed. The installation of a radiator and the cutting of one door into the hall on the Primary School end of the building would constitute the total expense and this need not be large. This room would be very useful and it would add to the sanitation and to the attractiveness of our school plant.

I take this opportunity to express my personal feeling of loss in the death of Mr. James E. Fowler, who for so long a time cared for the school house. Mr. Fowler was possessed of an unusual personality, which I have always found interesting. He was not only a doer but a thinker, and the results of his thinking were always worth hearing. In his death, the town and the school have suffered a loss.

I am much pleased to record once more my appreciation for freely given co-operation by all parents, citizens, and the School Board of Newfields in every effort made to benefit the pupils of the school.

Respectfully submitted,

CLIFTON A. TOWLE,

Superintendent of Supervisory Union No. 16.

AUDITORS' REPORT

This is to certify that I have this day examined the accounts of the School Board Treasurer for the year ending June 30, 1928 and find them correct and properly vouched.

E. C. PATRIDGE, Auditor.

Newfields, N. H., July 11, 1928.

IN MEMORIAM

On September twenty-seven, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, James E. Fowler passed out of this earthly life. He had been treasurer of the School District and Janitor of the School House for several years and was faithful in the discharge of all his duties. It is fitting that we should pause for a moment in the passing of this, the last representative of a family, resident here for nearly two hundred year, a family unique in its ruggedness of character and unswerving loyalty to principle as they saw it.
